[redacted]
D. C., and to bring with them a brief, general compilation of the material now available to their agency in the subject field. This will assist in discovering where the loopholes are in the shaping up of a comprehensive program. It is suggested also that the representatives be prepared to discuss the present sources and methods used by their agencies in obtaining information and intelligence on the subject, and to offer suggestions by which uniform procedures and practices can be devised.

3. The Bureau of the Census and the National Office of Vital Statistics have been asked to send representatives to attend this meeting.

4. The enclosed reply form is to be used in naming your representative.
